Detailed Action

Applicant's amendment filed February 13, 2003 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior arts are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-4, 8-10, 13 and 18-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being anticipated by Chen (US Pat. 5,350,967) in view of Say (US Pat. 4,374,341).

Chen discloses an inline electron gun for a color cathode ray tube (Figs. 5-14), the gun comprising:

cathodes (32a, 32b, 32c) ,arranged substantially in a horizontal line, emitting an electron beam;

a control electrode (34) having first hole regions (54), each one of the first hole regions including a first rectangular elongated indented portion (112) formed at an output side surface of the control electrode (34), wherein the first hole portion with a circular shape having vertical and horizontal widths equal to each other, the electrode beam passing through the control electrode;

a screen electrode (36) being installed adjacent to the control electrode (34), the screen electrode (36) having second hole regions (118), wherein the second hole regions having circular shape (Fig. 12); and a plurality of focusing electrodes (38, 40, 42, 44, 46) being sequentially installed from the screen electrode and respectively forming electron beam passing holes having a predetermined shape (Fig. 5), the focusing electrodes form a plurality of quadrupole lenses (col. 10, lines 57-67 and col. 11, lines 1-36).

However, Chen does not disclose the control electrode having the first hole regions being formed as vertically elongated indented.

Say discloses an electron gun for cathode ray tube (Figs. 4-9) comprising a cathode (41), a screen electrode (47) located adjacent to a control electrode (45), wherein the control electrode (45) has a hole region including a vertically elongated indented portion (Fig. 5) formed at an output side surface of the control electrode.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the vertically elongated intended portion as taught by Say into the Chen inline electron gun in order to increase the controllability of focusing the electron beam, so as to achieve a desired electron beam's reflection on the screen of the cathode ray tube.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 5-7, 11, 12, 14-17 and 22 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fails to suggest each one of the second hole regions including a second indented portion formed at an output side surface of the screen electrode and a second hole portion formed in the second indented portion as required in claims 5, 11 and 22. The prior art also lacks to establish plurality of focusing electrodes installed in an order manner related to a control and screen electrodes in that a fourth and fifth focusing electrodes forming a first quadrupole lens and a second quadrupole lens respectively as required in claims 14.

Correspondence

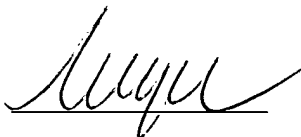

Art Unit: 2821

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a). A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
